TOURIST INFORMATION

KLATOVY and its surroundings

Dear visitors,

Welcome to the colourful historic town of Klatovy, situated at the foot of the Sumava mountains - one of the most beautiful mountain ranges in the Czech Republic. Its location gave rise to the frequently used epithet - the Gate of the Sumava mountains.

KLATOVY - HISTORIC TOWN

Tourists are nowadays attracted by a lot of sights situated on and around the town square. They can be appealed by the Black Tower, as many as 285 ft high and visible from the distance. The Klatovy skyline is enriched by the jesuit church with a decorative interior, in its basement the catacombs are situated - a unique crypt of the jesuit order members from the 17th century. Many visitors come to see the celebrated 'White Unicorn' baroque pharmacy.

KLATOVY - LIVING TOWN

With the population of 23.000 Klatovy is the second largest town of the Plzen region. There is ample cultural and social life, visitors are attracted by a number of cultural programs, exhibitions, concerts, lectures, feasts and other events.

Anually the town hosts the International Folklore Festival, which takes place at the second weekend in July within the annual town feast. At the same time the exhibition of carnations begins, which have been planted here since the 19th century and have made the town famous far abroad.

A large range of fans is gathered around the cycling marathon Author Kral Sumavy (the king of the Sumava mountains). Twice a year thousands of cyclists set out on demanding tracks from the square, consisting of road and mountain bikers. The BMX area is on high level, several times a year it hosts championships with acrobatic tricks. Motor racing fans will never miss the Mogul Sumava Rallye (a famous car rally) or Historic Vltava Rallye.

KLATOVY - CENTRE OF ACTIVE HIKING

Sportsmanlike visitors will be pleased with numerous sport areas in town - an open-air swimming area, an indoor pool with toboggan, a winter stadium, squash halls, tennis courts, fitness and wellness centres etc. For relaxing and leisure there is a public sauna, a salty water pool, massage centres, solariums or a salt cabinet.

The countryside nearby the town is an attractive area with a beautiful scenery, village and town architecture and castles bringing unforgettable experience to all visitors.

Town history

The royal town of Klatovy was established by king Premysl Otakar II in 1260 on the site attached to a 13th century trade route, connecting Bohemia and Bavaria. Development of handcraft, trade and a number of royal privileges brought the town large income, so in the 16th century it became one of the richest towns of the Bohemian Kingdom whatsoever. The heyday period was finished by the Thirty Years' War. At that time jesuits arrive, whose activities were changing the town for the next 150 years, making it an influential education centre. After 1685 Klatovy becomes an important pilgrimage town, when the Catholic Church confirmed that a local image of Virgin Mary shed human blood.

In the late 18th century Klatovy was a district centre. In the 19th century carnations - emblem flowers of the town - began to be grown and cultivated.

Today the town population exceeds 23.000 and is one of the most attractive in the area close to the Sumava mountains.

SIGHTS

The Black Tower

A town watchtower 285 ft. high, built in 1547-1555 by Master Anthony de Salla. On the top floor there was the keeper's flat, who would ring the alarm in danger of war or fire. At night he announced the time on his bugle. From the gallery on the 5th floor there is a fine view of the town as well as of the hills of Sumava.

Town Hall

It was built at the same time as the Black Tower in the 1650s. The decorative building gave evidence of the town's riches. From the 1st floor it was possible to pass through into the Tower, where there was a dungeon used as a torture chamber. Later the town hall was rebuilt several times, lately between 1923-1925 in neorenaissance style after a project of the architect Josef Fanta.

The White Unicorn Baroque apothecary

It is situated in the square in a house of Klatovy pharmacists. The unique Baroque interior was created by the Jesuits for their own apothecary within the order college. After the order dismissal in 1773 the equipment was sold to the local pharmacist called Firbas, who transferred it in his house. During the tour inside visitors can follow the development of pharmacy from its beginning to 1966, when the apothecary finished its public service.

Virgin Mary's Immaculate Conception and St. Ignatius' Jesuit church

The most important building of the Jesuit order, working in Klatovy in 1636-1773. In the church construction outstanding architects of the period took part. Precious are the illusive paintings of the main altar and the cupola, life-work of the painter Jan Hiebl (painted in 1716-1717). Relics of an early martyr saint are placed in the church, namely St. Oenestinus.

Opening hours:

in summer season ordinarily 10 am - 4 pm except Sunday

Catacombs

Subterranean crypt concealed under the Jesuit church was established during the church construction in the early 1770s. Members of the order, as well as notable citizens, noblemen from the surroundings and other benefactors were buried there. Burying in the crypt was ended by the emperor Joseph II's patent in 1783. Thanks to an elaborate system of air circulation bodies in oak coffins were gradually mummified and conserved. The crypt can be visited through the entry from back the baroque jesuit church in Denisova street.

Opening hours:

May - September: 9 am - 6 pm

October - April: week days 11am - 4:30 pm

Jesuit college

480 ft. long two-storey building was founded in 1655 as a part of the Jesuit grounds (church, seminary, latin school). After dismissal of the order in 1773 the building was owned by the 6th dragoon regiment ‚Kolowrat‘, it was used as stalls. Various army (mainly cavalry) units used the building until 1990, when it was changed into a shopping centre. Within its gradual reconstruction the building became seat of the Town Library and part of the municipal office of the town.

Prampouch

This is a little gallery overcrossing Balbínova street. Before connected the church with the former Jesuit college building. Glass bridge is from famous architect Evy Jiříčné.

Nativity of Virgin Mary Archdean Church

The oldest church in the town was established shortly after the town foundation in the late 13th century. From the original building only a small part was preserved. After 1400 the presbytery was rebuilt, in 1550 the nave was reconstructed after the vault had fallen in. The furniture comes from the Baroque era. After 1685, when the miraculous image was placed upon the main altar, it becomes an important pilgrimage church.

White Tower

The White Tower was built in 1581 as a belfry and entrance gate to a town cemetery, which was placed next to the Archdean Church. After the 1758 fire it was built higher and modified into today's shape. The western portal (towards the square) originally decorated the entrance in the church. In its top there is a relief of the Virgin Mary of Klatovy.

Dominican Cloister

Dominican friars settled near the town walls as soon as in the 13th century. Although they were expelled by Hussites in 1419, two hundred years later they returned to Klatovy and commissioned the construction of a new cloister and St. Vincent Church, the latter according to a design by A. Gilmetti, local master-builder of Italian origin. In 1785 the emperor Joseph II ordered abolition of the cloister and later on a lyceum was built in that place. Nowadays the cloister building has served as centre of education and a day hospital for disabled fellow - citizens, too.

Dominican St. Laurentius' Church

History of the church is closely connected with that of the Dominican monastery. The present-day church was built by the Dominicans after the town fire in 1689. In 1785 it was bought by the town and changed into a storehouse. For some time in the second half of 19th century it was used as a student church for the grammar school. In the course of the 20th century the church interior furniture was removed and nowadays it is used for art exhibition purposes.

Opening hours:

May - September 10-12 am, 1-5 pm.

Town fortification

The oldest part of today's town walls comes from early 14th century, however the first fortification was built as early as 1260, after the town foundation. In 15th century the fortification system was extended by the outer rampart with semicircular bastions and a water ditch. In 19th century parts of the walls were pulled down not to limit the areal development of the town. Still today Klatovy has one of the best preserved medieval fortifications.

The White Unicorn Gallery

Gallery of contemporary art was founded after 1989 in a historic house in the square, where the Baroque apothecary is situated, too. Other exhibition rooms are found in the Klenova castle nearby the town. The gallery is one of the largest contemporary art museums in the Czech Republic.

Opening hours:

Dr. Hostas Regional Museum

The building in the Art Nouveau style is one of the outstanding buildings of the early 20th century Klatovy. It was built for the museum purposes by the regional ethnographer and later mayor of Klatovy, Karel Hostas. The first floor contains a permanent exposition describing the history of the town. Ground floor rooms are used for various short-term exhibitions.
